MPRB Commissioners

City of Minneapolis voters elect nine commissioners every four years: one from each of the six park districts, and three that serve at-large. The MPRB performs its many duties through the contributions of elected Commissioners and the leadership of the Superintendent. Their actions are guided according to the following roles and responsibilities.

The Minneapolis Park System

The Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board (MPRB) features 251 park properties, including local and regional parks, playgrounds, golf courses, gardens, picnic areas, biking and walking paths, nature sanctuaries, 49 recreation centers and the 55-mile Grand Rounds National Scenic Byway.

The nine-member Board of Commissioners is an independently elected, semi-autonomous body responsible for maintaining and developing the Minneapolis Park system to meet the needs of citizens of Minneapolis. This unique structure allows independent decision-making so the MPRB can efficiently manage the park system and serve the diverse park and recreation needs of the city.

Mission
The Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board shall permanently preserve, protect, maintain, improve, and enhance its natural resources, parkland, and recreational opportunities for current and future generations.

The Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board exists to provide places and recreation opportunities for all people to gather, celebrate, contemplate, and engage in activities that promote health, well-being, community, and the environment.

Ranked Best Park System
The Minneapolis Park System has been rated #1 in America by the Trust for Public Land’s ParkScore index among the 100 largest U.S. cities.

ParkScore ratings are based equally on three factors: park access (percent of residents within one-half mile of a park); park size (city size and percent of city area dedicated to parks); and services and investment (number of playgrounds and per capita park spending).

Facility Rental

Renting your Parks and Recreation Centers
We want you to use your park facilities to their full potential! Individuals and groups are encouraged to use the centers and park spaces for self-directed activities.

Meeting Spaces
We offer many types of meeting and open spaces throughout the entire park system for all your meeting needs. Groups may be public and/or private agencies, organizations, businesses, or more informal. There are different permit requirements and special use fees, depending on the use.

Weddings and Receptions  Hold your wedding ceremony at one of the park system’s many reservable, picturesque settings, including Lyndale Rose Garden, Minnehaha Park, the Mississippi Riverfront and Theodore Wirth Park.

Birthday Parties  Make your child’s birthday party special! We are committed to making your child’s birthday a fun and memorable event in the parks.

Meetings and Conferences  Let us host your next meeting, workshop or conference in one of the recreation centers.

Courts and Fields
No matter where you live in Minneapolis, you are never too far from a sports field or court. Hundreds of tennis and basketball courts are available, as well as fields for baseball, softball, cricket, football, field hockey, soccer, lacrosse, rugby and more. Most athletic fields may be rented for scheduled practices and games. Some parks offer single fields, and others offer multiple field sports complexes which can be rented for tournaments. Neiman Sports Complex features eight full-size soccer fields, two baseball fields, two youth baseball/fastpitch softball fields, and one adult softball field.

Any user wishing to reserve an athletic facility must fill out and submit an application form found on the MPRB website. All MPRB owned facilities will be reserved through the following process:

Ongoing blanket permits  Permit reservations for multiple ongoing dates of usage or at regional facilities are permitted through the citywide permit coordinator in the Athletics and Aquatics Department.

Week to week permits at park facilities  Park facilities are permitted on a week to week basis through full-time recreation staff at recreation centers.

The Stevens House, in Minnehaha Park, was the first wood frame dwelling built west of the Mississippi River. In this house, our city was named “Minneapolis” and the Hennepin County government structure was established. Originally located near the downtown Post Office, it was moved to Minnehaha Park in 1896. Hours and admission: 612-722-2220 or www.johnhstevenshouse.org.

The Longfellow House, built in 1906 for Robert (Fish) Jones, is a two-thirds replica of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow’s home in Cambridge, Mass. In Minnehaha Park, the house is open Saturdays and Sundays, 10 am-8 pm Memorial Day-Labor Day as a Visitor’s Center. Check online for summer programs and events. The house is also used by the Minneapolis Parks Foundation for its administrative offices.

The Theodore Wirth Home and Administrative Building, located in Lyndale Farmstead Park, was built in 1910 as a home for Wirth. The house has been home to seven past superintendents.

Mill Ruins Park

The park illustrates the rich history of the riverfront and encompasses lumber and flour mills, canals, tailraces and other historic resources. Adjacent St. Anthony Falls was the catalyst for the development of Minneapolis and the birthplace of the city’s milling industry.

Bridges

The Stone Arch Bridge is recognized as a National Civil Engineering Landmark. Originally a train bridge, the railroad tracks were removed in 1996. It is now for pedestrian and cyclist use only and offers a panoramic view of St. Anthony Falls and the Mississippi River. At First Bridge Park, visitors can see the site of the first bridge to span the Mississippi River. Countless other historic bridges can be found in our parks.

Display Fountains

Lyndale Park Gardens feature the Heffelfinger Fountain and the Phelps or “Turtle” Fountain. The Gateway Fountain of Gateway Park features rotating, colored lights at night. Loring Park boasts the large dandelion-shaped Berger Fountain.
